Brill acquires journal Folia Primatologica from Karger

Brill (Leiden, NL) is pleased to announce the addition of Folia Primatologica to its Biology program. The journal was established in 1963 by Karger (Basel, CH) and will be published by Brill as of 2022.

Folia Primatologica is a peer-reviewed academic journal covering the best of current primate research, publishing six issues per year. The journal is published in close association with the European Federation for Primatology and the Primate Society of Great Britain. The Editors-in-Chief are Prof. K.A.I. Nekaris, Oxford Brookes University and Dr. C. Soligo, UCL London.

"Brill has a strong presence in the fields of behavioral biology and primatology and Folia Primatologica is well positioned to become a leading journal in our Biology program. We are honored with this opportunity to work with the best researchers in the field and to help increase the impact of the journal for both authors and readers," says Jasmin Lange, Chief Publishing Officer at Brill.

Daniel Ebnetter, CEO at Karger Publishers adds, "After almost 60 years with Karger, we're convinced that the journal will continue to thrive in the hands of the new publisher as part of their renowned Biology portfolio. Karger will focus more strongly on our core subject areas in the Health Sciences."
